Oldest U. S. Chain Store Observes 100th Anniversary

Grand Rapids — The nation's oldest chain retailer, Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., known to most Americans as A & P, is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year.

Theme of the company's year-long celebration of its historical milestone is "Thanks, America," according to Clyde L. Taylor of Grand Rapids, A & P general superintendent in this area.

"We are indebted to our customers, whose patronage through the years has built our business," said Taylor, "and we are placing major emphasis this year on a series of merchandising events which offer tangible evidence of our appreciation."

In launching the anniversary year, the A & P president and board chairman, Ralph W. Burger, challenged the company's 145,000 employees to seek new and better ways to serve the consumer. "In the highly competitive business in which we are engaged," he told them, "there is no standing still. We must continue to develop, to adapt, to change, to find the new way which is better than the present."

A & P has grown to seven divisions with more than 4,000 stores in a century of service to generations of housewives.

Stores in this area are under the overall direction of President Frank H. Bucher of the Central Western Division with headquarters in Detroit.

President Bucher, tracing the Division's growth in a territory stretching from South St. Marie, Mich., to Memphis, Tenn., said the company had adhered to basic principles of efficient, low-cost distribution and to the founder's philosophy: "Always do what is honest, sincere and in the best interest of our customers."

"To carry out that original policy," President Bucher said, "we consistently have made every effort to hold our operating cost to a minimum and to utilize every possible efficiency that will result in better quality at lower prices for the many families who depend on A & P for their daily food needs."

Mr. Bucher said a second factor in pushing A & P to the forefront is the fact that the company never has ceased to meet the challenge of changing times and the changing needs of customers.

One Wonders . . .

A great many people, from President Eisenhower on down, have said that this will be a big-spending Congress—substantially bigger, even, than its immediate predecessors. That view is based on the fact that numbers of successful candidates for Congress, Governorships, and state legislatures have "big government" philosophies, and advocate enlarged programs of public works, welfare, and so on.

The view, therefore, is understandable. Yet, one wonders.

The operative phrase here is "general principle". The voters, for the most part, approved big-spending policies of a general and non-specific nature. Yet in state after state those same voters decisively voted down specific ballot measures, carrying definite price-tags which would have made government bigger and swollen budgets and taxes.

In sum, the voters seem to like the idea of an ever-increasing flow of manna from the seats of government. But when it comes down to cases, they don't want to sign the checks.

This attitude can't go on forever. The American people will have to decide not only what they would like to have, but what they're willing to pay for.

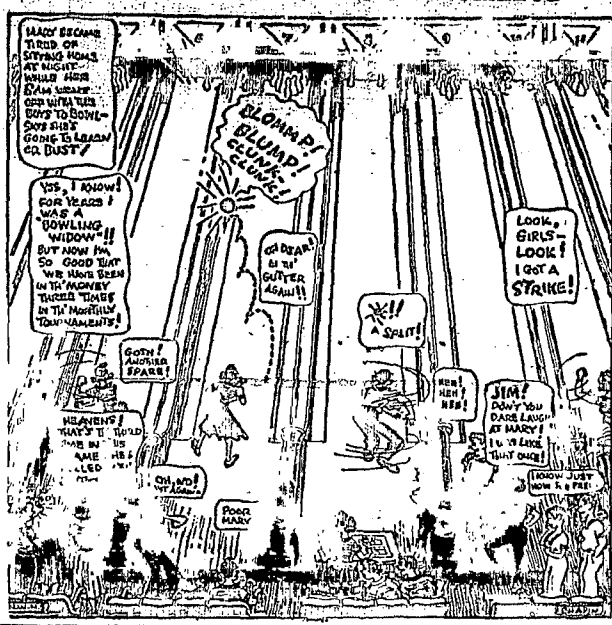

An Embarrassing Comparison

"The recent debate in the U. S. over 'right-to-work' laws, which would prohibit unionshop contracts between employers and employees, leaves Europeans a bit mystified and somewhat supercilious," says Fortune magazine in its February issue. "The reason is simply that while most European countries have thriving and powerful trade-union movements, they have largely avoided the type of labor contract that forces a worker to join a union before he gets a job (closed shop) or after he obtains one (union shop). In every country, strong pressure to join a union is, of course, applied by fellow workers, but this is something different from the kind of legal coercion that exists in the U. S."

England is a good example. There a larger percentage of the total labor force is organized than in the United States. But, with a very few exceptions, all workers can join or not join a union, as they please. They have complete freedom of choice. And this, believe it or not, suits labor leaders. The ex-president of Britain's powerful Trade Union Congress has said: "There is a fundamental issue here of the right of the individual to say whether or not he would become associated with other people."

To quote Fortune again, "The over-all experience of

LADIES' NIGHT AT "SUNSET ALLEYS"

Germany, Italy, France, and England clearly indicates that open shop conditions are compatible with a strong labor movement. This is an extremely uncomfortable fact for U. S. labor-union leaders, who argue vociferously that state right-to-work laws are simply a form of union busting."

"The Total Selling Medium"

How valuable is newspaper advertising to the retail merchant?

Here's what the president of a Montana department store has to say: "If I were suddenly restricted to one and only one advertising medium, I would board up the display windows, discontinue all interior and departmental selling displays, eliminate all informative show cards, discontinue all sales meetings and sales incentives, stop all telephone selling — and continue an aggressive business-building advertising investment in the newspapers."

This merchant also terms newspapers "the total selling medium". What advertiser could ask for more?

One of the most exciting basketball tournaments ever held here was made history Saturday night as four classy quintets who had fought hard to get a chance in the final "round-up" battled for the championships of their respective classes. Capacity crowds witnessed every session of play and helped in a big way to make the meet a success. Two members of the Michigan State Police were on hand all three nights to keep the congregation of fans under control.

Those who attended the final games Saturday evening witnessed the topping of one 1935 champion from its throne as McBain won a thrilling 28-27 decision over Gaylord to annex the tournament Class C championship. Gaylord, after downing Grayling Thursday night by 20-19 and then beating Lake City Friday 21-20, was considered a good bet to cop the honors in the upper division, but McBain flashed a brand of ball that kept the Top O' Michigan squad stepping and just couldn't be stopped. Houghton Lake by virtue of a two-pointier in the closing minutes of play defeated Roscommon 19-17, to win the Class D trophy for the third straight years.

Announcement was made by Ben G. Wright, publicity director of the East Michigan Tourist association, that Jack Redhead, Grayling's well-known guide on the Ausable River, will be present for two days this week during the showing of the E. M. T. A. exhibit at the Detroit and Michigan Exposition at Detroit. The exposition opened Friday.

"Winters, they aren't what they used to be," the old-timers' familiar remark, has been badly upset by weather bureau records cited at the meeting of the annual Michigan Highway Conference in Ann Arbor recently. If it is snowfall the old-timers refer to, recent winters have been all they used to be, or more. These are the facts, according to H. Merrill Willis, meteorologist of the U. S. Weather Bureau and director of the Michigan State Weather Service. During the past 48 years the average Michigan snowfall has been 56 inches. Seven times it has reached 70 inches or more. In 1893, 1901, 1909, 1923, 1924, 1926, and 1929. Only three such falls came in the first 35 years of this period, with four in the last 13 years. (1959 note, February 24 the snowfall totaled 79 inches far) according to Camp Grayling readings.

The game at Grayling last Friday afternoon ended the high school basketball career of four of Frederick High School players. They are Lewis Stillwagon, Nelson Vollmer, and Elmo Nephew who graduates, and Charles Horton, who is playing his fourth year of basketball.

Honoring Mrs. Ben Pankow, a group of friends met at her home

The farm house in Beaver Creek belonging to Tony Nelson, and occupied by Tom Galloway, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday about noon. It is reported that the fire started in the upstairs but the cause seems to be unknown. Most of the household furniture belonging to Mr. Galloway was saved. He had no insurance. The building carried insurance. No damage was done to the big barn or other outbuildings.

Miss Madonna Carribeau was the hostess to the "Just Us" club Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Frank Sales. After a very enjoyable evening a delicious lunch was served. The club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd SanCarter.

We were not surprised upon seeing Earl Knecht doing a great deal of luster cheering for the McBain boys during their two tournament games which were held Friday and Saturday evening. Although he is a teacher at McBain High School, we know that Earl still has a soft spot for the old time it must have been very gratifying for Earl to see his boys carry off the honors in a game that anyone might be proud of.

George Colleen celebrated his seventeenth birthday when he was in the residence of Dr. Merrill Willis, Tuesday, and some 25 of his friends gathered at his home that evening to help make it something of an occasion. The evening was spent playing pinocle after which a lovely luncheon was enjoyed. A luncheon of charming appointments was given by Mrs. Merton Wright for her contract club Saturday afternoon. The guests were served on small tables placed through the rooms. Mrs. A. J. Joseph held the high score for contract. Mrs. Frank Bond and Mrs. Frank Beardsch were guests. Mrs. Beardsch received the guest prize.

Our high school basketball team lost their scalps at Onaway and Gaylord last week. The score at Onaway was 41 to 36, and at Gaylord 41 to 17. We have as good timber as any school in northern Michigan for a winning team, but the need of a good place to practice is a handicap to our boys.

John Knecht (of Sigbee) while on his way to town last week, had an accident when a horse, frightened by a little dog in the street, ran away throwing him out of the sleigh, landing upon his head with a crate of 30 dozen eggs after him. ALTHOUGH none of the shows for which they have written scores has thus far been produced, tuncsmiths Carolyn Leigh and Cy Coleman don't seem to be lacking in their first two unproduced scores has been converted into at least one song.

"Witchcraft," Frank Sinatra's last big hit, was written for Gypsy Rose Lee's autobiography "Gypsy," as was the Tony Bennett click "Firefly" . . . Jo Stafford's "Hibiscus" was penned for "13 Daughters," and the Sylvia Sims' rendition of "You Fascinate Me So" was also from that score.

It will come as no surprise to long suffering parents but those plastic guitars, ukes and similar instruments are not "musical instruments" according to the Internal Revenue Service . . . The decision was reached when the department studied the possibility of taxing the use of these musical instruments . . . It was decided that the polystyrene plastic distorts sound under heat and pressure so it cannot be considered a bona fide instrument.

PLATTER CHATTER WARNER BROS. — William Holden presents dramatic themes from his great motion pictures in a hit album entitled "A Heart Is . . . Another hit album is "Halls of Ivy" to which the Gene Lowell chorus do such favorites as "Whispering Song," "With Above Cavern's Waters," "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," "Auld Lang Syne," "Halls of Ivy" and other college songs.

CITIES SCORE MAJOR GAIN IN AIR POLLUTION PROBLEM

CITIES SCORED A MAJOR gain against pollution of the air as citizens breathe.

In due time, with new local and state legislation, the problems of smoke and chemicals in the air may cease to exist. Contaminated air is being combatted in Michigan as well as California and several other states.

The Michigan Supreme Court held that Detroit can write an ordinance to control smoke from ships on the Detroit River.

The precedent will extend to the cities on all Great Lakes where the smoke from passing or docking freighters has become a nuisance.

"We think that by now it is sufficiently clear without citation of authority that excessive air pollution by dense smoke cannot be anything but harmful to the health and welfare of a community," wrote Justice John D. Voelker, in a unanimous opinion.

The decision validated the Detroit ordinance after a legal challenge from a riverside industry that the ordinance was in conflict with Federal interstate commerce regulations.

MONEY IS THE MAJOR PROBLEM for local governments.

Officials of leading Michigan cities, through the powerful Michigan Municipal League, have made two major points since the drive for more state taxes began a month ago.

1. Some of them want a share of any major new state tax revenue.

2. Most of them want additional powers to levy more kinds of local taxes, in addition to the property tax.

The legislature has rejected in other years the plea of Saginaw and other cities to impose a local income tax.

The major ideas now for local governments are excise taxes on hotels and hotel bills and other taxes not pre-empted by state government.

VOTERS WILL HAVE at least one non-controversial constitutional amendment on the April 6 ballot.

It will be the change in the name of the State Board of Agriculture to the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University of Agriculture and Applied Science.

The change, following by three years the name change of Michigan State College to Michigan State University is proposed by people who object to the confusion of terms.

Michigan now has a board of agriculture (to govern the university) and a state agricultural commission, which performs a number of services for farmers through the state department of agriculture.

The university has grown from a small institution once nicknamed in derision, "Cow College," to one of the nation's leading universities still maintaining its top-drawer agricultural curriculum but expanding to leadership in many other fields.

Voters will have the opportunity April 6 to approve the change in the name of its governing board.

At the same time, it is expected that other name changes will be voted upon in the legislature, making several more of the state's "colleges of education" into "universities."

MICHIGAN'S LEGISLATURE, which started the 1953 session with a 55-55 division between Republicans and Democrats in the House now stands at 54-54.

Democrats lost the first seat when Detroit's Fred Dingman, a Republican, lost the second when former Speaker George R. Van Pelt resigned to take a post with the Holland Furnace Co.

Voters will elect their replacements April 6 in the two districts involved.

Democrats have not had a chance to follow up on their threat to reorganize the House the first day they have more members in their seats than Republicans.

The session, conducted formally with rules and tradition, is still an informal machine when it comes to attendance.

From the gallery, it is possible to see three or four empty seats each day. Members are sometimes busy in committee rooms or doing chores in state agencies for their constituents.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE
"AVALANCHE"

ONE of the major commercial developments of the past decade, the upbuilding of the shopping centers of the country, found an important source of capital for financing in the insurance policy funds.

At mid-year 1958, the life insurance companies of the country had in excess of $1,000,000,000 invested in loans to shopping centers. This represents hundreds of shopping centers in all sections of the country.

There are now approximately 2,500 shopping centers in operation in the United States and an additional 1,400 are projected for construction this year and next, according to the International Council of Shopping Centers.

No tabulated figures are available as to aggregate financing needs of these centers, and such centers range from $200,000 or possibly even less to as much as $45,000,000 for one now under construction. The average value is believed to be between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 and the total value of those already operating has been estimated by some at $4,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000.

The importance of this new marketing system, particularly in the development of "interurbia" and "suburbia," is more clearly shown by the estimate of total sales and services of all shopping centers in 1957, roughly $35,000,000,000. Shopping centers have been almost entirely the development of the years since the end of World War II, especially the past two or three years.

This huge development of shopping centers has affected a large share of the nation's consumers, one estimate putting the total consumer list of these centers at 70,000,000. Another impact of the centers has been on local employment, many thousands of jobs having been opened by their establishment. Some of the 2,500 centers employ hundreds of men and women, and they include up to as many as 70 shops each and some of them do an annual business estimated as high as $80,000,000.

The life insurance company financing of shopping centers has been effected primarily through mortgage loans, bonds and "lease-back" arrangements. Of the billion dollars of financing outstanding, the larger part is under mortgages.

Biloxi's Famous Ship Island

Fort Massachusetts

Visible over Gulf waters and lying 12 miles directly south of Biloxi, Mississippi, is historic Fort Massachusetts, located on Ship Island. From 1699 to 1720 Ship Island was the harbor for French exploration and settlement of the Gulf Coast from Mobile to the mouth of the Mississippi River. Here came the first marriageable girls for the early colonists, bringing their chests or casquettes.

In 1814-1815 Ship Island served South. In addition to soldiers and sailors and adventurers of many old world nations, the waters of Biloxi have known pirates and buccaniers in bygone eras.

Fort Massachusetts was originally planned as a matter of national defense during the administration of Jefferson Davis as Secretary of War. However, the project was not constructed until the Civil War, when it was accomplished under the direction of Union forces and with all material brought by sea from Eastern Ports. After completion, the fort was used as a prison under General Butler.

Woman's Club

The Grayling Woman's Club met at their clubhouse March 4th for their regular meeting.

Mrs. Walter Truettner, Mrs. Joseph Hull and Mrs. Don Jansen were appointed to work with Mrs. Earl Gould, president, on the Community Achievement project planning for the Woman's Club. One member of the P-T-A, one from the P-T-A, and Robert Hayes secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Russell Carlson, City manager, and Mrs. Earl Burns, president of the Grayling Business Association, will also serve on this committee. Sears, Roebuck and Company are giving $1000.00 in prizes to clubs for outstanding community achievement.

There are many things that can be done to improve a community, with cooperation from all groups and organizations. If you have helpful suggestions give them to anyone of the above named and they will be presented for discussion. Our first project is the spring planting of petunias along US-27. This will make our town much more attractive to tourists and encourage new residents. The Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the spading and the Woman's Club the planting. Help is needed on the financing. Even though we have been offered the plants at cost, it will still be quite a bit for so great an area, so we are asking for contributions from each and every one who is interested in beautifying Grayling. Leave your donation with the Avalanche, the Hotel, Hull's Motel, Jansen Plumbing & Cold Cleaners. We must buy the plants and fertilizer, so all donations will be appreciated.

All Woman's Club members are urged to pray for peace and the women in foreign lands on March 11th. A Day of Prayer. Every Woman's Club member is asked to attend all special services in the church of their faith during Holy week, March 22-29.

The Decorating Committee, headed by Mrs. Walter Truettner is very busy painting and fixing the powder room and kitchen at the clubhouse. The Sewing Committee did a fine job on the drapes.

Mrs. LeRoy Millikin is the club winner on the Vogue sewing contest. She will go to Bay City on March 18 to enter her suit in state competition. We want to thank Larry McNamara for taking colored slides of Mrs. Millikin for the club.

Mrs. Leonard Allison's fund raising group are sponsoring a card party on April 8th at 8 p. m. at the clubhouse. All kinds of cards will be played and prizes given. Mrs. Ted Wheeler and Mrs. Rex Hawkins are co-chairmen and invite you to attend.

The speaker for the evening of March 4th was Robert Hayes, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hayes gave a very enlightening and interesting talk on his work, and Grayling's hopes for the future. He asked each of us to smile and say "hello" to all tourists we meet on the street or in stores. This makes them feel we are a friendly town and gives them a chance to ask questions on where to go and what to do, etc. Whenever we keep a tourist an extra day it boosts Grayling's economy.

Don Jansen, Chairman for Michigan Week, came with Mr. Hayes and outlined his plans for Michigan Week. He asked us to each send at least one postal card to an outstate resident with a picture of something from our area during Michigan Week. This helps to interest people in our area and in Michigan. Michigan Week is May 18 to 25.

Mrs. Earl Burns explained the Crawford County tour scheduled for May 19th, and urged all clubwomen to take part.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Edward Patchak, Mrs. Richard DuBois and Mrs. Walter Truettner.

The next meeting will be March 16. There will be a display of clever hats and a demonstration of how to make your own Easter Bonnet. Each club member is asked to come in a "homemade" hat. There will be a prize for the funniest and for the prettiest hats. A fifty cent fine will be given anyone not wearing a homemade hat.

An article in the Omaha, Nebr., Evening World-Herald on February 16, concerning the World-Herald's Bowler-of-the-Week competition, names T/Sgt. Axel Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Durl-Declrow of Grayling, stationed at Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska, as tops for any bowler-of-the-week with a three-gauge score of 711. He is pictured above with his son. "While not the best in Omaha for the season, Axel Peterson's 711 gave him 210 pins over average, the factor that determines the recipients of certificates in the weekly contests."

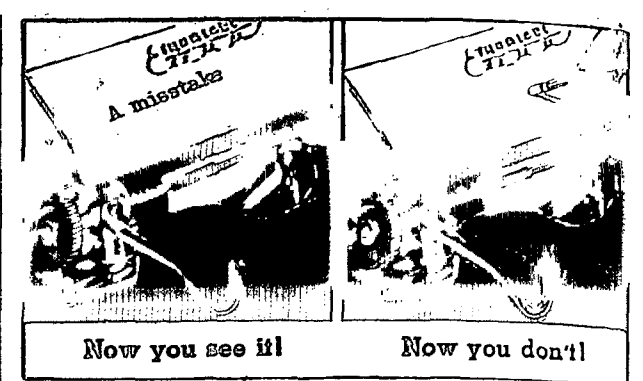

"Peterson, an Air Force technical sergeant stationed at Offutt, owned a 167 average going into his last series in the Bellevue Commercial League at the Belle Bowl."

"Peterson, 27, has been bowling 12 years but never did better than 565 previously."

Sgt. Peterson's home is in Bellevue Nebraska. His 711 series was rolled in games of 213, 256 and 242.

The Nuptial High Mass was performed at 9 o'clock in the morning at St. Mary's Church in Gaylord, with Monsignor Francis Kaminski officiating. Gladioli and snapdragons decorated the altar. The bride presented a bouquet of sweet peas to the Blessed Mother Mary.

In addition, representatives attended from the international headquarters of the Church in Washington, D.C., the regional headquarters in Berrien Springs, and from several of the Church's publishing houses.

IS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?

Who, would you say, are the most important people in our town? The young people? We like to think it is for them we are building the town and that they are the ones who will build the town tomorrow.

But will they, the young people of your acquaintance, be here tomorrow? Very largely that depends on the opportunities, the job opportunities, here at home.

The next time you hear of a young man or young woman leaving for an opportunity elsewhere, ask yourself: Is this trip necessary?

It's not practical to expect each of us to start a business or manufacturing operation just so our own sons and daughters will have work. What we can do, though, is to contribute our efforts to attracting new industry here and to help existing industry to expand locally. We can let everyone know of our town's industrial advantages. We can show our appreciation of present industry and see that its needs are met.

If we do these things, we'll be making opportunities here at home, and that's the right place for opportunities anytime.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.
